INTRODUCTION

This bibliography is a continuation of three earlier documents published under the federal government's Northern Oil and Gas Action Program (NOGAP). It includes articles, pamphlets, books, consultant reports, and other written material that fall under the subject of northern hydrocarbon development. Since the production of hydrocarbons has such a huge and widely varied impact, the scope of the bibliography includes social, environmental, economic, as well as industrial issues in the Beaufort Sea Region. The geographic area covered includes Northern Alaska, Yukon Territory (including the North Slope), as well as the Mackenzie Delta in the Northwest Territories.

The first two volumes published in 1986 & 1988 were entitled "Hydrocarbon Development: A Yukon Perspective". The third volume, entitled "Beaufort Sea Region: a Yukon Perspective", continued the documentation of materials up until 1993 and have consisted exclusively of material in the Yukon Archives. This fourth publication covers the years from 1994 - 2001 and expands coverage to include materials in the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (DIAND) Library system as well as the Yukon Archives.

Citations in this bibliography have been organized into three main subject areas. Each of these main sections contain specific headings, under which the citations have been organized. While earlier volumes have included annotations, time and monetary constraints have excluded these from this publication. Nevertheless, the compilation is still an exhaustive one.

It is important to note that each library has different borrowing policies and each should be consulted before loan requests are made.
