Minister's Message

I am pleased to present the 2006-2007 Yukon Film & Sound Incentive Program Annual Report. Once again, many Yukoners have benefited from the Program that was designed to support both individual film and sound career development, and the overall growth of the Yukon film and sound industries.

While projects vary in size and scope, the common thread in all activities funded under the Program is that they allow Yukoners to pursue their own professional development, while strengthening the overall film or sound industry in Yukon. This year, there have been many successes to enumerate, including film projects completed, musicians showcasing at prestigious events, and Yukon projects up for national and international awards.

Our skilled, hardworking film and sound industry members help put Yukon on the world stage, and the Yukon Film & Sound Incentive Program provides a pivotal mechanism to support those efforts. Filmmakers can obtain funding for development, production and post-production activities, while sound recording artists have financial support available to produce professional CDs.

The goals of the Film & Sound Incentive Program are to:

- Maintain and ultimately increase the level of independent film and sound recording production and expenditure in Yukon.
- Maximize Yukon employment opportunities resulting from film and sound recording production in Yukon.
- Encourage sustainable growth in the Yukon film and sound recording sectors, resulting in a stronger infrastructure of skills and services.

During the 2006-2007 fiscal year, $353,685 was approved under the Incentive Program to support a variety of film and sound projects.

My congratulations to all cultural industries members who were successful under this year's Yukon Film & Sound Incentive Program. Thank you for your contribution to cultural industries in Yukon.

Jim Kenyon
Minister of Economic Development
