

Figure 12: Summary tectonic evolution of southwestern British Columbia. Location of city of Vancouver shown by V. No attempt is made at palinspastic restoration, other than the schematic gap east of the southwestern Coast Mountains- Wrangellian block (= Insular Superterrane) in A; Orogen parallel displacements may have been large and sinistral before 100 Ma, and dextral after that time (Monger, et. al., 1994; Monger and Journeay, 1994).

Return to Document

